Petitioner/applicant is cautioned to avoid submitting personal information in documents filed in a patent application that may contribute to identity theft. Personal information such as social security numbers, bank account numbers, or credit card numbers (other than a check or credit card authorization form PTO-2038 submitted for payment purposes) is never required by the USPTO to support a petition or an application. If this type of personal information is included in documents submitted to the USPTO, petitioners/applicants should consider redacting such personal information from the documents before submitting them to the USPTO. Petitioner/applicant is advised that the record of a patent application is available to the public after publication of the application (unless a non-publication request in compliance with 37 CFR 1.213(a) is made in the application) or issuance of a patent. Furthermore, the record from an abandoned application may also be available to the public if the application is referenced in a published application or an issued patent (see 37 CFR 1.14). Checks and credit card authorization forms PTO-2038 submitted for payment purposes are not retained in the application file and therefore are not publicly available.

PETITION TO WITHDRAW A HOLDING OF ABANDONMENT (37 CFR 1.181(a) OR, IN THE ALTERNATIVE, TO REVIVE AN UNINTENTIONALLY ABANDONED PATENT APPLICATION

Honorable Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Dear Commissioner:

This is a Petition to Withdraw Revive A Holding of Abandonment (37 CFR 1.181(a), or, In the Alternative, to Revive An Unintentionally Abandoned Patent Application. The Notice of Abandonment is indicated as having been mailed on June 9, 2006. A copy of the Notice of Abandonment is enclosed herewith for reference.

The following is an outline of the events which have taken place in this application:

1. Applicant received an Office Action indicated as having been mailed on April 22, 2005. (Exhibit 1 attached hereto.) Applicant correctly calculated the initial response deadline as being July 22, 2005.

Applicant timely responded to the April 22, 2005 Office Action on July 18, 2005. (Exhibit 1-A attached hereto.)

2. Applicant next received from the Examiner an Office Communication indicated as having been mailed on October 27, 2005. (Exhibit 2 attached hereto.)

Since the Amendment filed by the Applicant on July 18, 2005 (received in the US Patent Office on July 21, 2005) was noted by the Examiner to be a bona fide attempt to reply, the Applicant was given a "TIME PERIOD OF ONE (1) MONTH or THIRTY (30) DAYS, whichever is longer, from the mailing date of this notice within which to supply the omission or correction in order to avoid abandonment. EXTENSIONS OF THIS TIME PERIOD UNDER 37 CFR 1.136(a) ARE AVAILABLE." See Exhibit 2-A attached hereto, bottom of page 2.)

Applicant docketed the response deadline as November 27, 2005 (with an additional 5 months available for response, since the original time period was ONE MONTH.

Applicant timely responded to the October 27, 2005 Office Communication on November 17, 2005. (See Exhibit 2-A attached hereto.)

3. Applicant next received from the Examiner an Office Communication indicated as having been mailed on February 3, 2006. Since there was no indication of a new deadline for response by the Examiner, Applicant assumed that the deadline set forth in the October 27, 2005 Office Communication continued to govern the response deadline.

Applicant docketed the response for February 27, 2006; and responded to the Office Communication on February 10, 2006. (See Exhibit 3-A attached hereto.)

4. Applicant next received from the Examiner an Office Communication indicated as having been mailed on May 2, 2006. Since there was once again no indication of a new deadline for response set by the Examiner, and since the Examiner issued the Office Communication on May 2, 2006 (well past the April 27 final deadline for response), Applicant assumed that there was currently no official deadline for responding to the May 2, 2006 Office Communication.

However, in preparation for quickly responding thereto, Applicant made several telephone calls to the Examiner to discuss the merits of the Application and to create a strategy for that response. Applicant also discussed this matter with Richard Chilcot, Supervisor? for Group Art Unit 3634. It was during these telephone conversations that the Examiner indicated to the Applicant that the response deadline was past and argument was closed.

5. Applicant finally received a Notice of Abandonment indicated as having been mailed on June 9, 2006. (See Exhibit 5 attached hereto.) In the Notice of Abandonment, the Examiner indicates that that the replies received on 11/21/05 and 2/13/06 do “not constitute a proper reply, or a bona fide attempt at a proper reply to the non-final rejection”. (See Exhibit 5, page 2).

However, Applicant argues that replies to the previous Office Communications were both “proper” and “bona fide” in that each was filed in a timely manner – as quickly as possible - and that all replies presented arguments which the Examiner found “non-responsive”, but upon which the Examiner did not further elaborate.

Applicant respectfully requests that the June 9, 2006 Notice of Abandonment be withdrawn, and that the Examiner more fully explain his “non-responsive” citation, so that Applicant can more effectively argue the merits of the case.

August 2, 2006

Respectfully,

David I. Roche

1. The proposed drawing correction filed on December 13, 2004 has been approved.

2. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not known if the applicant is claiming the shelf per se or in combination with the barbecue grill. While claim 1, line 1 recites "A shelf for a barbecue grill" and thereby sets forth that the claims are drawn to the shelf per se, lines 6-9 state that the detent of the first quick release member secures the shelf to the barbecue grill frame assembly in a first position and the first quick release member adjusts to a second position to allow for detachment of the shelf from the barbecue grill frame assembly which can only be an accurate recitation if the barbecue grill is a positively claimed element of the invention. Similarly for claim 2 which sets forth that the detent of the second quick release member secures the shelf to the barbecue grill frame assembly. Claim 5 states that the detent engages a bottom wall portion of the barbecue grill frame assembly in the first position which can only be an accurate recitation if the barbecue grill is a positively claimed element of the invention. Claim 8 defines structure of the barbecue grill frame assembly further implying that the claims are drawn to the combination of the shelf with the barbecue grill. Similarly for claims 10 and 11 which state that the spring members secures the shelf to the barbecue grill frame assembly. Claim 12 recites the sidewalls as engaging the cross members of the barbecue grill frame assembly, claim 13 states that the transverse portion of the sidewalls of the shelf are positioned on an upper portion of the cross members of the barbecue grill frame assembly, claim 15 states that the shelf is cooperatively dimensioned with the interior space such that the shelf is positioned within the interior space, claim 16 states that the spring member is cooperatively dimensioned such that the spring member is removably received by the barbecue grill frame assembly, claim 17 states that the downturned portion engages the cross member of the barbecue grill frame assembly, each of which can only be an accurate recitation if the barbecue grill is a positively claimed element of the invention. Likewise, claims 18-26 suffer from the above noted defects. Elements of an invention to which it is necessary to refer in order to define other elements of the invention are to be positively included in the claims.

Art Unit: 3634

Claim 7 is further indefinite for it recites that the shelf is a wire rack, wherein, the claims from which claim 7 depends upon are not generic claims inasmuch as they are drawn to the embodiment of the shelf comprising a piece of sheet material.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3,5,6,8,9,18,19,21,25,26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Lin '322. Lin '322 discloses a shelf 1 having a circular sidewall 11 depending from a bottom wall, quick release member 12 having hole portions 121,122,123 defining therebetween a detent. The circular sidewall 11 defines the claimed first, second, third, fourth sidewalls. Inasmuch as the claims are drawn to the shelf per se, no patentable weight has been attributed to the barbecue grill.

4. Claims 1,3-5,8-10,12-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Welch et al. Welch et al disclose a shelf 10 having a surface 14 which responds to the claimed bottom wall, sidewalls 12,16,18, quick release members 30 formed of a spring member. Inasmuch as the claims are drawn to the shelf per se, no patentable weight has been attributed to the barbecue grill.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2,6,11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Welch et al. As to the number of sidewalls and quick release members employed, to have provided the shelf of Welch et al with additional sidewalls and quick release members for their explicit purpose of supporting the shelf is nothing more than a duplication of existing elements and as such does not constitute a patentable distinction.

Art Unit: 3634

6. The following prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: Darbyshire, Heft, DiCenzo.

Claim 27 (currently amended): A barbecue grill assembly comprising:

an upper assembly formed from a plurality of upper frame members, the upper assembly adapted to support a cooking chamber;

a lower assembly having a shelf and a plurality of lower frame members, the shelf having at least one quick release member securing member, the quick release member securing member adapted to move between a first position, wherein the quick release member securing member slidingly engages a portion of an inner wall of the lower frame member, and a second position, wherein the quick release member securing member lockingly engages a generally downwardly facing surface of a lower frame member, wherein the generally downwardly facing surface is chosen from the group consisting of including a bottom surface, a corner surface, and a lower half of the lower frame member in the case of a circular or rounded lower frame member.

Claim 28 (currently amended): A barbecue grill assembly comprising:

a frame assembly formed from a plurality of frame members defining an interior space, the frame assembly adapted to support a cooking chamber, the frame assembly having at least one lower frame member; and,

a shelf generally positioned within the interior space, the shelf having at least one quick release member securing member, the quick release member securing member adapted to move between a first position, wherein the quick release member securing member slidingly engages a portion of an inner wall of the lower frame member, and a second position, wherein the quick release member securing member lockingly engages a generally downwardly facing surface of the lower frame member, wherein the generally downwardly facing surface is chosen from the group consisting of including a bottom surface, a corner surface, and a lower half of the lower frame member in the case of a circular or rounded lower frame member.

Claim 29 (currently amended): A barbecue grill assembly comprising:

a frame assembly formed from a plurality of frame members defining an interior space, the frame assembly adapted to support a cooking chamber, the frame assembly having at least one lower frame member; and,

a shelf generally positioned within the interior space, the shelf having at least one quick release member ~~securing member~~, the quick release member ~~securing member~~ adapted to move between a first position, wherein the quick release member ~~securing member~~ slidably engages a portion of an inner wall of the lower frame member, and a second position, wherein the quick release member ~~securing member~~ lockingly engages a generally downwardly facing surface of the lower frame member and engages an upper portion of the lower frame member to prevent lateral movement of the shelf, wherein the generally downwardly facing surface is chosen from the group consisting of including a bottom surface, a corner surface, and a lower half of the lower frame member in the case of a circular or rounded lower frame member.

Claim 30 (currently amended): A barbecue grill assembly comprising:

a frame assembly formed from a plurality of frame members defining an interior space, the frame assembly adapted to support a cooking chamber, the frame assembly having at least one lower frame member;

a shelf generally positioned within the interior space, the shelf having a quick release member ~~securing member~~ and a downturned portion;

the quick release member ~~securing member~~ being adapted to move between a first position, wherein the quick release member ~~securing member~~ slidably engages a portion of an inner wall of the lower frame member, and a second position, wherein the quick release member ~~securing member~~ lockingly engages a generally downwardly facing surface of the lower frame member, wherein the generally downwardly facing surface is chosen from the group consisting of including a bottom surface, a corner surface, and a lower half of the lower frame member in the case of a circular or rounded lower frame member;

the downturned portion being adapted to engage an outside surface of the lower frame member and the quick release member securing member being adapted to engage an inside surface of the lower frame member, wherein the downturned portion and the quick release member securing member resist lateral movement of the shelf.

Claim 31 (currently amended): A barbecue grill assembly comprising:

a frame assembly formed from a plurality of frame members defining an interior space, the frame assembly adapted to support a cooking chamber, the frame assembly having a lower frame member;

a shelf generally positioned within the interior space, the shelf having transverse member adapted to engage a top surface of the lower frame member, a downturned member adapted to engage an outside surface of the lower frame member, and a quick release member securing member; and, a portion of the quick release member securing member having a detent at a tip of the portion, the portion being adapted to rotate about a generally horizontal axis between a first position, wherein the quick release member securing member slidingly engages a portion of an inner wall of the lower frame member, and a second position, wherein the detent lockingly engages a generally downwardly facing surface of the lower frame member, wherein the generally downwardly facing surface is chosen from the group consisting of including a bottom surface, a corner surface, and a lower half of the lower frame member in the case of a circular or rounded lower frame member.

Claim 32 (currently amended): A barbecue grill assembly comprising:

a frame assembly formed from a plurality of frame members defining an interior space, the frame assembly adapted to support a cooking chamber, the frame assembly having a lower frame member with a height;

a shelf generally positioned within the interior space, the shelf having transverse member adapted to engage a top surface of the lower frame member, a downturned member, and a quick release member securing member;

a portion of the quick release member ~~securing-member~~ having a detent at a tip of the portion, a distance between the transverse member and the detent being approximately equal to the height of the lower frame member;

the portion being adapted to rotate about a generally horizontal axis between a first position, wherein the quick release member ~~securing-member~~ slidingly engages a portion of an inner wall of the lower frame member, and a second position, wherein the detent lockingly engages a generally downwardly facing surface of the lower frame member, wherein the generally downwardly facing surface is chosen from the group consisting of including a bottom surface, a corner surface, and a lower half of the lower frame member in the case of a circular or rounded lower frame member; and,

the downturned portion being adapted to engage an outside surface of the lower frame member and the quick release member ~~securing-member~~ being adapted to engage an inside surface of the lower frame member, wherein the downturned portion and the quick release member ~~securing-member~~ resist lateral movement of the shelf.

Claim 33 (new): The barbecue grill assembly of claim 28, wherein the shelf is secured to and removable from the barbecue grill frame assembly without additional hardware.

Claim 34 (new): The barbecue grill assembly of claim 28 wherein the first quick release member is a spring member.

Claim 35 (new): The barbecue grill assembly of claim 28 wherein the shelf has a substantially planar bottom wall and four side walls.

Claim 44 (new): The barbecue grill assembly of claim 28 wherein the quick release member is biased towards the first position.

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

The Applicants' representative has carefully reviewed the Examiner's Office Communication of October, 2005, in which the Examiner asserted that the amendment filed on July 21, 2005 was non-responsive because the combinations of claims 27-32 do not require a quick release member or a spring member. Consequently, claims 27-32 are hereby amended to substitute the term "quick release member" for the term "securing member." Consequently, the Applicants represent that the claims as amended are no longer distinct from the previously submitted claims 1-26 and can be considered by the Examiner. Furthermore, for reasons that are apparent, the amended claims clearly differentiate from the prior art cited in the Examiners April 22, 2005 office action and focus on different aspects, some of which have been previously examined in copending Application No. 09/927,897, which issued as U.S. Patent No. 6,739,558. Therefore, the Applicants believe that the claims are sufficiently distinguished from the prior art and are in condition for allowance.

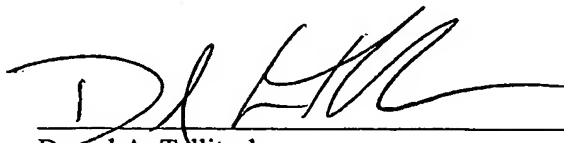

Please note that the Applicants have also submitted new dependent claims 33-44 bringing the total number of claims to 18. Applicant believes that no fees are due in connection with this amendment. In the event that fees are due, you are hereby authorized to deduct the required amount from our Deposit Account No. 02-0400 (Baker & McKenzie). When identifying such a withdrawal, please use the Attorney Docket Number WEB-927-CIP.

Commissioner for Patents

Newly submitted claims are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

- I. Previously submitted claims 1-26, drawn to a shelf, classified in class 211, subclass 134.
- II. Newly presented claims 27-32 drawn to a barbecue grill assembly, classified in class 126, subclass 41R.

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require a quick release member or a spring member. The subcombination has separate utility such as a shelf in a kitchen cabinet.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 27-32 have been withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

The amendment filed on July 21, 2005 canceling all claims drawn to the constructively elected invention and presenting only claims drawn to a non-elected invention is non-responsive (MPEP § 821.03).

Since the above-mentioned amendment appears to be a bona fide attempt to reply, applicant is given a TIME PERIOD of ONE (1) MONTH or THIRTY (30) DAYS, whichever is longer, from the mailing date of this notice within which to supply the omission or correction in order to avoid abandonment. EXTENSIONS OF THIS TIME PERIOD UNDER 37 CFR 1.136(a) ARE AVAILABLE.

Newly submitted claims are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

- I. Previously submitted claims 1-26, drawn to a shelf, classified in class 211, subclass 134.
- II. Newly presented claims 27-44 drawn to a barbecue grill assembly, classified in class 126, subclass 41R.

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed. It is noted that claims 27-30, drawn to the combination, do not require a quick release member having a detent, a spring member, nor a shelf having a bottom wall and sidewall, as required by the originally presented subcombination claims. As such claims 27-30 are evidence that the combination does not rely upon the specific details of the subcombination for its patentability. The subcombination has separate utility such as a shelf in a kitchen cabinet. Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 27-44 have been withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

The amendment filed on November 21, 2005 canceling all claims drawn to the constructively elected invention and presenting only claims drawn to a non-elected invention is non-responsive (MPEP § 821.03).
